

---

short takes

---

University

---

Good morning. Today will be cloudy with a chance of rain by afternoon and the high in the low to mid-60s. Tonight will be occasionally rainy with the low in the upper 40s to low 50s.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with a chance of showers and the high in the mid-60s to near 70.

FYC meets tonight

First-Year Council will meet tonight at 8 in the Webb dormitory lounge.

Elections scheduled

The Pre-Law Society will hold its annual elections tonight at 7:30 in the Law School, Rm. 19.

Vegetarians to gather

The Vegetarian Student Union will hold an open meeting tonight at 6 in the backroom of Pavilion XI.

Shustov to speak

Vladimir V. Shustov, Russian Deputy Ambassador to the United Nations, will speak on "International Security — The Soviet Viewpoint" tonight at 8:30 at the Law School, Caplin Auditorium.

GSU seminar to be held

The Gay Student Union will sponsor a seminar on "Relationships" tonight at 7:30 in Wilson Hall, Rms. 216 and 301.

Adams to lecture

Harvard Professor James L. Adams will lecture and show a film on his experiences in the Confessing Churches' resistance to Hitler tonight at 7:30 in the Medical School Amphitheatre.

Draft forum slated

The Office of Afro-American Affairs and the Movement Against the Draft will hold a forum on draft registration tonight at 7:30 in the Chemistry auditorium.

ARC elections to be held

Upper-class housing residents may vote in Association of Residential Councils elections today and tomorrow in the Lambeth Commons Building, Newcomb Hall post office, and in Copeley, Gwathmey and Brandon apartments.

Committee to meet

The Academics Committee will meet tonight at 7 in the backroom of Pavilion XI.

Applications due