

CD/Jane Friedman

'...All are bright as day'

I was listening to a Fogelberg song which ends with the same tune as "The Good Old Song". An idea came to mind regarding one of the verses. Instead of singing "Where all is bright and gay," how about "Where all is bright as day"? This new verse would shed a more favorable light on our school than does the current verse. Just a thought.

Mark D. Miller
Class of '81

P.S. I hope it won't take a referendum to change the verse.

Monday, January 26, 1981